Says Cop Kicked Him

Toney Mum On Kicking Report

William Toney, popular restaurant owner, although listed on the critical list last week was up and walking around the John Gaston hospital halls. He was mum on the incident that helped put him in the hospital with a serious flare-up of a diabetic condition.

WILLIAM TONEY

When asked for a comment on reports that an officer had kicked him, Mr. Toney refused, saying that he didn't want to cause any undo publicity.

The story has to do with Mr. Toney calling in Memphis police to report a car stolen. Police said Mr. Toney was drunk when they answered the call at his 144 W. Trigg home.

One thing led to another, reports say and one of the officers wound up kicking him.

Officers said Mr. Toney, when they told him they wouldn't take a statement from him until he had sobered up, in the patrol car and told them to find his car.

Mr. Toney, 43, still in John Gaston at this writing, said that he was close to death just after he was taken to the hospital. A diabetic, he said the kick in the side brought on serious complications.

Police have denied that they were rough with Mr. Toney.

Seek Charter For NAACP In Fayette

More than 50 citizens residing in and around Somerville in nearby Fayette County, scene of current tensions over voting rights, have applied for an NAACP branch charter.

The branch is being organized in Somerville, which is 40 miles from here, through efforts of the Memphis NAACP president, the Rev. D. S. Cunningham. Allen Yancey is acting as chairman of the group.

In New York, Gloucester Current, NAACP director of branches, said, "because of unrest and economic reprisals in Somerville, the Memphis NAACP branch is serving as sponsor and protector of the new group."

This week the Memphis branch sent basic food and clothing supplies into the area to relieve the plight of persons who have been unable to obtain such supplies locally because of their attempts to register and vote. Negroes have not voted in the area in any large numbers since Reconstruction days.

Want To Own Piece Of Church? Read On

ON BUYING A CHURCH

Ever wanted to own a piece of a church? Or have you ever been engaged in the cooperative effort of a group of church folk to pay for the church edifice the congregation occupied?

Well, believe it or not, in those two questions one finds the implications of two distinct concepts of church financing. The first concept has to do with the actual ownership of church property . . . with all that such ownership means in returns on the money invested . . . returns on the money one has put into the church property . . . returns in the form of interest paid on church bonds.

The other concept is the hoary old practice of the past in which a group of folk would get together to form a church body. Most times they would start in somebody's house, in a tent, or in an old abandoned store. Then, they'd set out on a building program . . . raising money with church suppers, fish-frys, rallies, begging envelopes, and dozens of other penny ante schemes designed to raise enough money to build a fair to middling building . . . building usually in spurts . . . and taking almost as many years to finish as it took Methuselah to grow to old age.

TOOK TOO LONG

In too many instances under this old method of church financing too many of the old folk who started the congregation ever lived to see the completed "new" church.

But under the first concept . . . a concept which is comparatively new among Negro church builders in these parts . . . all the missteps, mishaps, frustrations, and ineptness can be avoided.

The idea was emphasized here in Memphis this summer by the pastor and congregation of Central Baptist church, corners Alston and Mississippi.

Rev. Roy Morrison, pastor of Central Baptist, has announced the sale of church bonds. This means that members of the congregation . . . and persons who are not members, for that matter, may purchase bonds as an investment in the future new Central Baptist church which will be under construction not so long from now.

FROM $100-$1,000

Under the play . . . widely used by white congregations . . . persons may purchase bonds . . . on installment . . . ranging from $100 to $1,000. The bonds may be held by the purchaser as long as desired. While he keeps his bonds, the bond is paying interest. And, interestingly enough, the interest the bond pays will be higher than that paid by the banks on ordinary savings accounts. One can

'Nuff Said About Deals, Now Let's Get Out Votes

[An Editorial]

Enough has been said about the so-called deal made for Negro votes to last for the next two or three elections. As it stands now, the whole situation has been blown far out of proportion by writers and readers and speakers as to its meaning and its political implications.

The main thing, from our vantage point, is not that Negro votes were sought after so boldly as to promise Negroes jobs, but that they were sought after, period. It should point out to the Negro once and for all that their votes are vitally important. It was thus in the last election and it will be in the election of August 4.

As for deals, they are nothing new, whether they are made in a courthouse basement or in a full-fledged political mass meeting where a candidate will promise everything from a "chicken in every pot" to making the sun shine on a particular day that you would like to have a picnic.

August 4 is just around the corner and it's about time Negroes of Memphis and Shelby County got together. They tell us the reason that some Negroes failed to vote for their particular choice in the last election was because they thought the "good white fathers" could tell who they voted for after they had pulled the curtains and the votes had been recorded. To be quite frank, such people as these—if these reports are true—should not vote in the first place.

The above is only one of the more preposterous excuses for a Negro actually going against his heart's desire because he is afraid of the power that he. No Negro needs to fear any longer. The truth is, WITH A UNITED FRONT THE NEGRO CAN HAVE A STRONG SAY-SO IN THE COMING ELECTION.

We have a capable, alert, hard working young man running for Shelby County Quarterly Court in Atty. A. W. Willis, Jr. Let's get Mr. Willis elected, then we'll hear very little of deals. We can do it too, but only with a UNITED FRONT.

'New Library Won't Stop Suit' --- Lawyer

Atty. L. H. Lockard, one of the lawyers representing Jesse Turner in the pending library desegregation suit, did not think the proposed new Negro library would have any bearing on the case.

The Tri-State Defender learned early this week that construction is expected to start in a couple of weeks on the North Branch Memphis Public Library for Negroes. The building will be of brick construction located on Vollentine near the dead-end of No. Bellevue.

Director of public libraries, C. Lamar Wallis, said the building will be air-conditioned. It will have modern colored furniture. The inside will look like a modern club or motel. The chairs in the building will be light weight, white and black, with pads.

The North Branch will be located on a lot 200 by 200-foot. The 98 by 68-foot building will feature exposed steel frame construction. It will be the first library in Memphis with a drive-up book return window at the rear. The driveway will have two entrances off Vollentine and will provide for traffic around the building.

The proposed building costing $89,696 for construction is expected to open formally Jan. 1, 1961.

Mr. Wallis said the Vance Avenue Branch is crowded and as soon as this building is completed it will be a branch for Negro readers in that part of town. It will also be the headquarters for the Negro Bookmobile, which operates six days a week, and for the program of libraries in elementary schools.

It serves about six to eight hundred classrooms.

Claims Negro Youth Beaten By Store Man

J. B. Williams, a customer in Silvers 5 & 10c store on Main, notified the Defender that a Negro youth that looked to him to be about 17-years-old was beaten by the manager of the store late Monday afternoon.

According to Mr. Williams, "I was standing in the store when the boy walked out with a shopping bag in his hand. One of the sales ladies followed him and the manager followed her. The lady grabbed the youth along with the man and carried him upstairs and started beating him."

A Tri-State Defender reporter was sent to Silvers minutes after the reported incident. A store employee declined to confirm the story but did say "Lowenstein's store detective prosecuted him."

Williams said he told the man that "He should not beat the boy was carried from the store he should call the police." The boy was carried from the store by two policemen in a squad car.

Lt. Lee, Gilda At GOP Confab

Lt. George W. Lee, along with his daughter, Gilda, are attending the Republican Convention in Chicago this week. Lt. Lee was expected to make one of the seconding speeches.

The genial, out-spoken manager of the Atlanta Life Insurance company here in Memphis, said he was confident of a victory in November. He is one of the most powerful Republican leaders throughout the country.

Court Candidate Says:

Negro Tired Of Bland Smiles

In the past few days, certain people have revealed their true colors by attaching sinister implications to a reported attempt of a group of citizens to secure for members of their race jobs, in government, commensurate with proven ability and demonstrated loyalty.

It was only a few weeks ago that a committee composed of some of the leading citizens of this community, both white and Negro, among whom were A. L. DAVIES, President of Memphis Chamber of Commerce, RABBI WAX, DR. PAUL TUDOR JONES, Pastor of Idlewild Presbyterian Church, JESSE H. TURNER, R. B. SUGARMON, JR., DR. HOLLIS PRICE, President of LeMoyn College, GEORGE W. LEE, and the Editors of our two (2) daily newspapers, EDWARD J. MEEMAN and FRANK ALGER, met with the Mayor and City Commissioners to request that Negroes be given jobs and be appointed to various citizens' commissions. It has been reported that another committee, containing some of the same Negroes, met with the Chairman of the Shelby County Commission for similar purposes. Why, then, should this reported conference be labeled a "jobs for votes" deal?

The Negro voter refuses to be treated like a child or to be the captive of any group, or to accept labels as proof of the contents of the package without examination. In other words, the Negro will no longer accept a bland smile and a ready handshake as a substitute for jobs in government and general participation in the democratic processes.

Many of the so-called "Memphis Liberals" have come by night to the Negro with profuse expressions of sympathy for Negro aspirations, promises of jobs, and even promises of implementation of racial integration. These same persons have gone to their white neighbors, changing colors like a chameleon, promising to defy the laws of the land and maintain segregation to the bitter end.

I am wondering whether this recent hysteria is indicative of a genuine concern of this group for the destiny of the Negro people and racial harmony in Memphis and Shelby County, or whether it merely reveals a fear of losing the Negro as a stepping stone to achieve selfish and unstated goals. This in no way wise disparages the true liberal who generally works for racial harmony with progress.

Just the other day, George Grider, a Memphis Liberal and an Operation Action Candidate, spent considerable time trying to convince me that the Operation Action ticket was in the best interest of Negroes in this community, realizing that Operation Action ticket candidate A. R. (Mike) Allen, is in opposition to my own candidacy. This view has been further expressed by other members of the Citizens Association who have endorsed that ticket. While some of the people of this community may leave the selection of candidates to public office to self-appointed political advisors, most people, both Negro and white, in the absence of a fear-charged emotional atmosphere, would prefer to analyze the issues, the facts, and the qualifications of every candidate before casting their votes.

In my campaign for election to the Shelby County Quarterly Court, it is not my desire to receive simply a Negro "bloc" vote. One of my considerations for running in the City-at-Large race rather than District No. 2, where seven candidates are seeking three seats, was to subject my candidacy to the largest possible vote of all the citizens, both white and Negro. I did this because I have faith that the voters of this community "if given light, will find their own way." I have no thought of being elected simply by a Negro "bloc" vote since it appears that one Negro in a position of leadership has cast his lot with the Grider forces and the Operation Action ticket. It is reasonable to assume that he has a Negro following. It is also reasonable to assume that he will seek to lead his followers in support of the Citizens Association's Operation Action ticket.

I solicit wholeheartedly the support of all the citizens who desire, as I do, to see democracy become a reality in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee.

As participants you will have valuable cultural and geographical experiences to exchange."

earn four per cent or more on one of the Central Baptist Bonds. Or, suppose a person has to sell his bond? Well, the bonds are negotiable. That means they can be used for ready money whenever the need or desire arises. Further, one can keep the bond indefinitely and collect the interest as part of one's regular income on one's savings.

Incidentally, there's nothing amiss in investing in churches. Insurance companies, banks, and other established financial institutions lend millions of dollars to church construction. They must have found it to be a mighty good investment. They must have found that church loans, bonds, and other financial arrangements are good sources for making legitimate profits. The plan advanced by Central Baptist church is designed to allow the private individual also to earn returns on his invested dollar. If it's good business for an insurance company, the church investments should be good business for the individual.

It would be in the interest of those who have money saved that could be used to earn more money, to look into the Central Baptist church bond sale arrangement. Other churches might well investigate the arrangement.

Reverend Morris, one of America's outstanding church leaders and church founders, is available for information in detail at his church office and at his home. He is willing and prepared to provide the information needed to guide other Negro church folk into an area of church financing which they have long needed to know. See him!

Ban Rebel Flag At GOP Confab

Officers of the Cosmopolitan Chamber of Commerce have been assured that the Confederate flag will not be flown during sessions of the National Republican convention.

Replying to a letter from A. L. Foster, executive director, Mrs. Webster Todd, chairman of the program committee of the subcommittee on arrangements, said, "I would like to advise you that the Republican National Committee has received your letter and the committee is in complete accord with you. We are making every possible effort to see that only one flag will be flying at the Amphitheatre."

Several Chicagoans propose to ask for legislation which will forbid the display of the rebel flag at any gathering. At present Section 175, Title 36, U.S. Code only says: Confederate flag may be displayed, but constitutes disrespect for the American flag when flown close to it.

Witness Mistakes Golf Clubs For Body, Calls Cops

ELKHART, Ind. — (UPI) — An excited woman telephoned Elkhart police Sunday and reported she had seen a man move a body from one car to another. City police, sheriff's officers and state police investigated for several hours only to learn that what the woman had seen was not a body... but a bag of golf clubs.

There are only about 60 surviving California condors, North America's biggest bird, according to the National Geographic Society. The condor is a rare species of the vulture family.

2nd Night Of Fights From Cars

GREENVILLE, S. C.—(UPI) — Officials of this textile mill city, rocked by two successive nights of interracial violence, were expected to call for strict curfew Tuesday to keep teen-agers of both races off the streets.

An estimated 500 white and Negro youths, moving from one drive-in restaurant to another in motorcades, battled with rocks, knives, clubs and a few pistols for four hours Monday night. There were no serious injuries, but police arrested at least 16 persons and confiscated an arsenal of homemade weapons.

Most of the fighting was done from cars. It consisted largely of rock throwing, but one white man reported a Negro youth fired two shots into his car as he drove home from work and told him to "get going."

About 200 youths battled in the same fashion Sunday night. Police Lt. Frank W. Taylor said the trouble began building up last week when three white youths were arrested during a battle with Negroes protesting lunch counter segregation.

White youths gathered at a drive-in restaurant on the north side of this city of about 140,000 Monday while Negro youths gathered at a Negro drive-in on the southside. Youths of both races milled about a grocery parking lot, and police said at least two shots were fired into the parking lot from a Negro residential area.

Twenty city policemen, 10 sheriff's deputies and six state highway patrolmen were pressed into service. But officers said as fast as they dispersed a group it would reform in another part of the city.

Sheriff J. R. Martin said the motorcade of both races apparently were directed by short-wave radio sets installed in some of the cars.

The trouble began last Thursday when a group of Negroes protesting lunch counter segregation were jeered by white spectators. A second Negro group, not involved in the demonstration, challenged the white spectators, and a fist fight erupted.

Officers confiscated several pistols, brass knuckles, switchblade knives, razors, bricks, rocks and baseball bats in a shutdown of rioters cars Monday night.

A GUIDE TO GOOD EATING

GRACE WILLIAMS

Mrs. Joseph Conrad wrote a delightful cook book in which she said that no cook need spend more than two and a half hours preparing dinner, but that she must never leave the kitchen during this time. Advice of the past!

You see, cooking has been reduced to such a scientific basis that nearly every cook can make "the eatin'est victuals" ever tasted, in little or no time—especially, if she owns a pressure cooker.

One of the most modern and efficient of cooking utensils is food that cooks successfully in a covered saucepan will cook faster and more beautifully in a pressure cooker. Fast cooking in a little water saves both the flavor and nutrient in food. It also saves fuel and time in the kitchen.

Every household could use a pressure cooker, but we feel it is of special advantage to those who have little time for cooking and who must cook in a hurry. It helps these people to add variety to their meals. For example, they are forced to buy the tender, expensive cuts of meat that can be quickly pan-fried or broiled. With a pressure cooker they can purchase a wide variety of inexpensive cuts and the less tender variety meats. It would also make possible the purchase of less expensive poultry such as hen for stewed chicken and dumpling dinner. Turkeys are plentiful now. But many homemakers do not wish to "heat the kitchen" with long hours of roasting. The pressure cooker will remedy this—turkey for summer eating may be cooked in the pressure cooker, added to barbecue sauce and served on hot buttered buns. Part of this same turkey may be used to fill omelets or on top of waffles for breakfast and brunch. And certainly our summertime turkey that was cooked in a "beat the heat" pressure saucepan would be delicious in a rich cream sauce and served as a luncheon entrée.

The pressure cooker is wonderful but it has its limitations. It cooks soups and vegetables superbly. We have mentioned some meats that may be cooked in the pressure cooker, but certainly no cook would sacrifice a juicy chop or steak, a tender chicken or rib roast to a steam bath. Experiment with your cooker. Let your judgment, your high cooking standards and above all your sense of taste determine what you find desirable and undesirable when cooking by pressure.

Here are some points to remember when using your pressure cooker.

1. Cook as small amount of food as you wish but use the full amount of liquid given in the recipe for pressure cooking.
2. When cooking foods that require different periods of cooking begin with the ingredients that require the longest cooking time.
3. When adding vegetables that require unequal period of cooking, equalize them by cutting in small dice those that require the longer period of cooking.
4. Cook frozen vegetables as you would fresh vegetables, remembering that a shorter cooking time is required.

"A Guide To Good Eating" is a service provided for the readers of the Tri-State Defender through the cooperation of the Memphis Dairy Council. Mrs. Williams is a teacher of Home Economics at Manassas High school.

Musing: Marriage . . . Be Generous. A recent bride was once asked: "When did you really become acquainted with your husband? When did you really get to know him?" Her very studied and sober answer was: "The first time I asked him for money after we were married." Niggardiness, not merely in money matters but in values that matter even more, is responsible for the inability of many a husband and wife ever to get to know each other. Be generous in understanding, in kindness, in forgiveness. Be generous in encouragement, in praise, in gratitude. Be generous in love, in hope, in faith.

Dear Counselor: Please tell me why it is that as soon as children are 13 they have to pay full price to get into a movie, but they can't get in to see certain pictures? I'm 13 and I understand everything there is to know about life. If the movie owners think we are such babies that we can't see certain pictures, why do they charge us adult prices to get in? I don't mind paying adult prices, but I think it's dumb not to let teenagers in to see anything on the screen. Am I right? Ann.

Dear Ann: You are wrong. Although you may think you know everything there is to know about life, let me assure you that at 13 you are unable to interpret much of what you see, nor are you able to view life's problems in their proper perspective. (In fact, I have an idea you don't even know what you are talking about.)

Ask More Aid For Foreign Nations

An increase in economic and technical assistance to foreign countries was advocated Thursday by a spokesman for the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Mrs. Annalee Stewart, legislative secretary of the U. S. section of the League, presented her organization's position to a subcommittee of the Republican platform committee. "The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom," she said, "supports a decisive increase in non-military assistance to relieve human suffering and promotes economic development in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

Continuing she asserted, "It believes programs for international cooperation should be on a long-term basis to permit more effective planning."

Other policies advocated by the League included universal controlled disarmament, a strengthened United Nations, certain domestic aspects of disarmament.

Under questioning by subcommittee members, Mrs. Stewart pointed out that, "you can't have true peace without freedom, or true freedom without peace."

Among the freedoms she listed, freedom from colonial power, freedom from hunger, freedom to sit around a table as equals and freedom from nuclear war.

Says Whites Face Bloodshed

LONDON — (UPI) — An African leader Sunday challenged Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to temper white "arrogance" or face "widespread" bloodshed in Britain's troubled Central African Federation.

Joshua Mqabuko-Nkomo, external affairs director of the federation's African National Democratic party, urged Macmillan to immediately suspend the powers under which a white-backed government runs the mainly African federation.

Nkomo attacked territorial Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead of Southern Rhodesia. He said a "Whitehead displayed 'sheer arrogance' in arresting peaceful African leaders and banning political organizations. The arrests sparked riots in Salisbury, the federation's capital, this week.

ATA Tennis Tourney Slated For Virginia

HAMPTON, Va., July 11, 1960 — For the first time in 21 years, the American Tennis Association national tournament will be staged in Tidewater, Va., when Hampton Institute hosts the five-day event beginning August 15.

Next month's tourney will mark the 43rd annual playing of the ATA national championships, featuring men's and women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles and junior singles and doubles. Also, inter-collegiate championship singles matches are slated, with the finals to be played midweek, Wednesday, August 17. Champions from six inter-collegiate conferences will meet on the tournament courts.

Bertram L. Gaker, ATA executive secretary, indicated that exhibition matches by some of the country's leading tennis professionals will highlight the racket fest's semi-final day's program, August 19. These players will be named next week.

Baker also said that he hopes to be able to announce details next week of a tennis clinic which the ATA will offer for the general public during the tournament week. "This clinic will be conducted by one of America's leading tennis coaches," he said, "and will be sponsored by the Wilson Sporting Goods company of Chicago."

Although the decision was unanimous in each case last month the members voted 3-1 in favor of turning down the appeals. The Rev. J. K. Manley, a Negro minister, voted to admit the Negroes to white schools.

Among the five Negroes appealing was Stanley Vickers whose application had been turned down last year and again this year. His family has moved the case into federal court.

Methodist Men Tops At Centenary Church

It doesn't take a newcomer long to find out what the all-male organization, The Methodist Men, means to Centenary Methodist church at 878 Mississippi blvd. in Memphis.

The Rev. D. M. Grisham, pastor, says, "It's one of our finest groups. All of us look to the Methodist Men for fellowship and financial assistance."

One Centenary member said: "We're real proud of these Methodist Men. See the new tile covering the floor of our main auditorium? The Methodist Men had it put there and it's costing them $700."

The pastor's secretary doesn't mind telling newcomers that a typewriter and mimeograph machine in her office and the installation of a water fountain in one of the corridors of the church were paid for by the Methodist Men.

Still remembered by all members of the church is the Methodist Men's financial project last fall in which men and women were asked to give 10 percent of their earnings in October

The rally brought in $2,500, and as promised, one half of the sum went for conference claims and the other half for renovations in the basement of the church. The basement, once an eyesore, is now a thing of beauty.

Last year found the Methodist Men doing other things such as sponsoring a fellowship dinner for all members of the church, chartering a bus to the Tennessee Conference and helping to finance young delegates to the Methodist Youth Conference.

"We are real proud of our organization," said the Methodist Men's young president, J. A. Bradford. "We are just in our sixth year, have a membership of about 75 and an average attendance of approximately 30. Our men contribute $1 a month and we take in about $500 a year in dues."

The group meets twice a month. A business session, usually graced by a speaker, is held the second Tuesday night of each month and a supper meeting, at which food is served, is conducted every fourth Tuesday night. Officers other than President Bradford are Nelson Turner, first vice president; Washington Fields, second vice president; T. H. Chatman, treasurer; H. Clinton Ray, secretary, and Prentiss Hillard, assistant secretary.

Being Frank

About People, Places
And Problems
By FRANK L. STANLEY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — All good though he has had recent brush with death, "I just can't imagine what I would do with good style and scholarly treatment in others. Such not only keeps them on their toes but serves as a constant challenge to write something worthwhile."

When one has to write under pressure of deadline, he is often faced with the necessity of filling a space without benefit of proper research or inspiration.

Today I am struck by several gems of thought; each in itself merits full treatment. However, I pass them on to you without attempting any personal embellishment. The reason? I cannot add anything to their beautiful philosophy.

William H. Hessler on "U. S. Universities and Leaders": "In the 1930's, when the nation's problems were social and economic, the contribution of the universities was specialized — in banking, monetary theory, economics, social legislation, regulation of business and the like. During the war and its early aftermath, the academic people in great numbers were used in diverse phases of the war effort, from mathematical plotting of where U-boats would be to price controls, and from raw materials rationing to the classification of intelligence data."

IN THE later 1950's and now in the 1960's, the largest role of the universities (aside from their main job of education, of course) has become technological — weapons development, satellite design, studies of adjusting human beings to weightlessness and so on.

"But all the way, the university in America has supplied experts not political ideas, and not political leadership. It has been neutral in the great battles of our public life, because we have other free institutions through which we can generate policy changes to meet changing times."

Harry Golden on "Lime-light": "According to one of the nation's best sportswriters, Jimmy Powers of the New York Daily News, Eddie Arcaro, the about my job of making people happy. And I'm happy doing the possibility of quitting, 'al- it'."

"Hattie McDaniel developed the habit of stepping out each morning into the open air, taking several deep breaths, then throwing out her arms in a gesture of joy as she cried out: 'Hello, there, good morning!'"

"AND," she would say, with that wonderful smile of hers, "that good morning just smiles back at me. Then I go to work. Eddie Arcaro, the about my job of making people happy. And I'm happy doing the possibility of quitting, 'al- it'."

"I think he has made a mistake," said Simple.

"Why?" I asked.

"Because in a little while Jews are going to start trying to be colored," said Simple.

"I been reading in the papers they don't want to run FROM ed is a celebrity."

"And more so when that Negro is up in the money," said Simple. "Joyce says, 'Just let a Negro get a little money, he ups and marries a white woman—she is the one that wears the furs and diamonds. "Sammy is probably a liberal for wedding veils now—has up and married white. So who shares all these rich colored women's money?"

"I said, 'Shut up Joyce. You are making me mad because I have to turn around and come back where he started from in one order to be saved.'"

Voters Will Weigh Evidence

The qualifying preliminaries are over and the Presidential candidates are now on the starting line of the 1960 election. Many people are wondering what will be the foremost factors in the campaign and what issues are likely to have the greatest weight with the electorate?

To be sure, President Eisenhower's record, which Mr. Nixon is morally bound to defend, will be under the withering fire of the opposition. The Kennedy-Johnson team should have a field day on the Administration's interminable bungling of domestic and foreign issues.

The U-2 spy-plane incident which helped to torpedo the Paris Conference and the subsequent withdrawal of the Japanese invitation to Eisenhower for a state visit to Tokyo will come under the glare of the spotlight for criticism.

In general the conduct of foreign affairs will receive a rigorous examination. Our troubled relations with Russia, Cuba, and our insistence on non-recognition of Red China will be closely evaluated.

What will affect many votes will be which nominee acquires the most public trust in his ability to wage the contest-keeps with the Communists wisely and well. Thus, even the basic issues of the campaign will turn on the individual qualifications and image of the nominees themselves.

There will be unresolved domestic problems which will figure in the campaign. But at many points they merge into the broad question of how best the United States can promote the democratic process, and thus move toward a sane resolving of the race question. Obviously, a great need is to make civil rights a living reality in which the guarantees of citizenship are neither compromised nor whittled down.

There are of course other problems of consequence, but none of them if un- neglected would be gravely injurious to our social conscience and our plan for world leadership. Yes, we need more and better schools, more research in science and outer space, faster development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, better care for older people. But survival, national security and unity take top priority in times of peril. And these are perilous times.

The central concern of most voters will be expressed in this question: Which nominee can best be trusted to wage the peace and which will be more disposed to use well all the means the nation provides?

Both parties might as well get into their consciousness that the Negro vote, which gathers more strength as the years go by, will go to the political party that offers the best guarantees of full citizenship to the Negro people.

There are no more Uncle Toms to slip through the back door and make personal deals that compromise the future of the whole Negro race. The Negro voter, today, is too sharp to follow blind or bought leadership. He will cast his ballot in accordance with the dictates of his enlightened conscience. And what's more the Negro vote may decide the 1960 Presidential election.

They have a regular system of recruitment. The first duty of a terrorist is to recruit four more and bring them to the training area. There they are given their fill of food drink and girls, and then sent out to earn their pleasure.

In the Bamileke country the French have drawn a cordon around a triangle and are shooting all who offer resistance within it. They can surrender under an amnesty, but many have never heard of it, as propaganda is defective.

The present terrorist target is the European, of whom 30 have been killed. Their object being to demonstrate that Europeans are still in key positions and, by frightening them out, would produce further disorder and depression. The Whites retaliated by staging a day's strike a fortnight ago in Douala to demand greater protection, including a promise by the government to execute captured terrorists in public. This at least did the job of demonstrating their key role.

There is a severe political strain. It was in the hope of achieving a political solution, which would prompt the terrorists to disarm and permit the French to withdraw that native authorities tried to bring together all he paries in the assembly into a national government. But that plan did not succeed.

The bitterness of the Cameroon government against external interference is therefore understandable.

They may now have 4,000 men organized in bands of a hundred or so in the forests, and smaller terrorist commandos intimidating the towns. At any time they can perhaps draw on a potential manpower pool of 50,000. It is this which makes any relaxation of pressure so risky.

Let Mississippi Bolt

Gov. Ross R. Barnett recommended that Mississippi bolt the Democratic party and support a third party candidate for President. He would urge a reconvened state Democratic convention that the same action be taken as in 1948, when Mississippi joined eight other states in supporting the States' Rights Presidential ticket.

Unless the Governor's memory is inordinately short, he should recall that the States' Rights ticket got only 39 electoral votes. After that humiliating defeat, the rebel leaders had to crawl back cheaply into the Democratic camp. They were obliged to do that lest they should permanently forfeit their seniority rights in Congress.

We could think of no political event of happier augury than Mississippi's separation from the Democratic party. This time it would be a vastly different story. Should the Democrats win the Presidential election, they would hardly miss the opportunity to bolt the door tightly against Mississippi for good and teach a much needed lesson to the rest of the Dixiecrats.

This would mean the elimination of the most rabid segregationist in the Senate, Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi who uses his chairmanship of the sub-committee on Judiciary to sidetrack or choke off all progressive legislation, particularly those measures that would improve the economic and cultural status of the Negro.

We say, fine, let Mississippi bolt the Democratic party. We will shout Hallelujah when that day comes.

Church Problems Under The Reds

"The most persistent impression is that an American brings back from a visit to the churches under Communism is that of Christians who live in a world much more like Christ's than his own; a world where a Christian has to make hard decisions and knows it."

These are the findings of Milton Mayer, noted Quaker religious leader, who, with his wife and children, visited the Communist countries of Eastern Europe, lived with the clergy and preached to the congregations.

"What we saw," he writes in the August issue of Harper's Magazine, "were Christians living lives unimaginable to the American churchgoer who lives (or thinks he lives) as he pleases. It has got to purge itself of its history in so far as its history ranges it alongside exploitation, or private profit."

"Their world—which was never like ours—began breaking up in 1914. Now they live in to do so weekdays, not just a new one. This new world re- say so Sundays."

In order for the church to survive under Communism, he believes it must purge itself of anything which might represent the Western political position. "It has got to purge itself of its history in so far as its history ranges it alongside exploitation, or private profit."

Dope And Data

For the past two weeks I have to talk at length with Congressmen on a tour of the United States with a most interesting about his dreams of Nigeria and African leader and statesman, Africa, Congressman Dawson Chief Ayotunde Rosiji of Ni- threw a party for the Chief at his Washington apartment and all of the Negro government bigwigs, including E. Fred Morrow of the White House, went out of their way to make the Chief's visit very pleasant.

Chief Rosiji had a chance to meet and know the big wheels in government on both sides of the color line. The State Department has frequently been criticized in the past for giving African big wheels a "white tour" on the theory that contacts with U.S. Negro leaders might lead to "complications."

I must say, however, that Robert Hennemeyer and other State Department officials with whom we worked out the tour were most cooperative and showed no bias nor any desire to rig the trip.

It was necessary, of course, for Chief Rosiji to make courtesy calls on the directors of the various international agencies in Washington and if a visitor makes them all, he will have little time for anything else, especially on a brief visit.

Chief Rosiji got a chance to see President Eisenhower at the testimonial banquet for Labor Secretary James Mitchell. The President, presented Chief Rosiji with a pair of silver cufflinks which he had especially made in Mexico.

The Washington experience was exciting principally because Chief Rosiji had a chance state visit.

From Washington, we hopped off to Baltimore where the Association of Commerce gave the Chief a luncheon and the Murphy: of the Afro-American newspapers arranged afternoon and evening receptions.

This technique of meeting top government and business officials of both races was repeated in every city, including Knoxville, Tenn., where he was the guest of the Department of Interior for an inspection of TVA. After the TVA tour Chief Rosiji met with Knoxville Negro leaders, including the president of Knoxville College, James Colston.

In Detroit the Motor magnates of Chrysler, Ford and General Motors put out the red carpet as did the Michigan Chronicle, the Booker T. Washington Trade Association and business leaders John White and Dr. Haley Bell. The reception given by the Bells was one of the highlights of the trip. Bankers, businessmen, Negro and white leaders in 6 a.m. the Francisco and Los Angeles also went all out.

One fact emerges clearly, the interest of Americans of both races in Africa is now at an all time high. The manner in which Chief Rosiji was received in every quarter, was nothing short of sensational. The Chief was overwhelmed and the impressions he gained of Americans from this tour will have practical value in Nigeria which becomes independent October 1 this year. We are beginning to learn how to make friends and we are going to need them.

A long way from hours, minutes, and seconds—but still a way of measuring time.

Ever since, man has been "watching the clock."

What the cave-man constructed was only a crude sundial, but the straight stick in a circle of stones did mark off the day into units of time—an important beginning.

But the sundial had a serious drawback—it depended on clear sunny weather. It did not tell time at night or on cloudy days. So early man tried burning ropes, which were knotted or marked. The burning knots marked off the passage of time in the night.

Strangely enough, fire provided the first alarm clock. Early Chinese couriers, when traveling, would light a stick and place it beneath their toes. When the fire came close, it roused them and sent them hot-footing down the road!

Another refinement of the Chinese was the water clock—a pierced brass bowl floating in a basin of water. When the bowl filled and sank, an attendant slave marked the moment by tolling a huge gong.

An even better water clock was one in which water dripped through a small opening into a glass container. Time was told by the level of the water. When sand, or ground egg shells were substituted for water, the hourglass was born—the eternal "sands of time."

The Greeks and Romans, more mechanically inclined, arranged for flowing water to turn cogs and wheels to move dials, levers, and pointers. From here, it was but a step to the next major advance in timepieces—the weight driven clock.

When Galileo discovered the principle of the pendulum, greater accuracy for the weight driven clocks was the next development. The "grandfather" clock or early America is an example.

But clock were still too large and cumbersome to be carried on the person. That is, until 1511, when a young Nuremberg locksmith named Peter Henlein came up with the world's first portable timekeeper—us-

SINKING BOWL of Chinaman ushered in a new era of telling time. A hole in the bottom let water enter. When the bowl sank, an attendant, awaiting the signal here, rang a gong. Man has been recording time since the first crude sun dial of a cave dweller.

THE FIRST MINUTE hand was added to the watch in 1670. Until that date, the timepiece, although improving in accuracy, had only an hour hand. The first watch, a cumbersome thing, was nicknamed the "Nuremberg Egg" after the place of its invention.

Urge Shriners On Sit-Ins

DETROIT, Mich. — A challenge to Shriners to take a stand on the student "sit-in" protest, appears in the 3rd Quarter issue of the Pyramid, official organ of the Imperial Council, Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles Mystic Shrine of North and South America and its Jurisdictions, Inc.

Author of this challenge is James E. Denkins, Imperial director of Public Relations, Baltimore, Md. His story, titled "Where a Noble Stands on 'Sit-Ins,'" asks questions, but as quickly tells the Noble where a Shriner actually has to stand on this and similar situations.

"As a citizen," Denkins declares, "you are interested in prevailing social problems relevant to the welfare of our land. As a colored American, you are deeply concerned about movements which substantially affect minority groups. And last, but certainly mainly, as a noble, you are imbued with the spirit of universal brotherhood."

The Fauna Preservation Society tells the story today in a report "A look at threatened species," which also contains the good news (for everybody but Indian cattle herders) that the impudent Asian lion is on the increase.

POUNCE ON BEAST — The cattle herders complain this lion won't eat just any old stein, but insists on squatting near the corral looking over the menu and pouncing only when the really prime beef is driven in.

In all of Asia, says the report, there are only a few hundred Rhinoceros left because every part of its body is believed to have medicinal, religious or magical value.

This includes a liquid sold in betty vials like perfume, which isn't.

But the biggest prices go for Rhinoceros horn — and this is where the rich Chinese and

Watson, who will reside in Dakar where he is also responsible for Ghanaians, Nigerians, Canadians and represents Britain throughout French-speaking West Africa (except Guinea), is the fifth head of mission to present credentials at Togo. He follows France, West Germany, the United States and China (Formosa). Liberia, Russia, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria will also open embassies soon.

Rich Chinese Sacrifice Rhinos On Altar Of Love

LONDON — (UPI) — Rich, elderly Chinese marry beautiful young wives and then try to enslave the aid of a Rhinoceros to keep them happy.

a world beginning to overflow with humans but only the Rhinoceros is, in a manner of speaking, being sacrificed on the altar of love.

The Fauna Preservation Society tells the story today in a report "A look at threatened species," which also contains the good news (for everybody but Indian cattle herders) that the impudent Asian lion is on the increase.

POUNCE ON BEAST — The cattle herders complain this lion won't eat just any old stein, but insists on squatting near the corral looking over the menu and pouncing only when the really prime beef is driven in.

In all of Asia, says the report, there are only a few hundred Rhinoceros left because every part of its body is believed to have medicinal, religious or magical value.

This includes a liquid sold in betty vials like perfume, which isn't.

But the biggest prices go for Rhinoceros horn — and this is where the rich Chinese and early Chinese do then?

'Freedomland' Attracts U.S. A.

By JIM GIBBONS

NEW YORK — American showmen in New York are spending 65 million dollars to make history repeat itself. They have building a giant park in the Bronx and have trucked in tons of historic paraphernalia so they can re-stage spectacular calamities like the San Francisco earthquake, the Chicago Fire and the Civil War.

Tourists can now escape from the shaking streets in time to help man the Chicago fire pumps and then stalk across the Gettysburg battlefield to make sure all is well with the Yankees.

"I guess it will make a pretty full day," drawled one of the promoters. "But people can relax later at a silent movie."

Actually, there is enough action and sight-seeing in the park to keep the average tourist busy for four days. Called Freedomland, and planned as one of the largest outdoor entertainment centers in the world, the 205-acre park tells in 41 color-fu exhibits the story of the settlement and growth of the United States.

It is shaped like the map of the United States and splashed with lakes and rivers and mountains just like nature's original.

Contracted only little more than a year ago by Chicago Promoters Peter De Met, 47, and Milton Raynor, 46, the park opened to the public June 19. It is New York's typically "bigger and better" answer to California's famous Disneyland.

In fact, the historic panorama was designed and built under the direction of a dynamic, 39-year-old Texas showman named C. V. Wood, who was formerly general manager of Disneyland.

SHOWMAN WOOD — Wood is in business for himself now and after he finishes Freedomland he'll head south to build another mammoth amusement park in Miami, called Discoveryland. Even the fabulous showman P. T. Barnum would have been awed at Wood's grandiose schemes for entertaining the public.

De Met and Raynor have also proved their Midas touch. They built a Chicago motor agency into one of the world's largest retail car outlets, successfully crashed television with weekly bowling and golf events, put down a million-dollar bowling alley in Florida, and now they have installed themselves as the chiefs of the International Recreation Corporation—a gold-plated outfit that will rule Freedomland.

"Freedomland is just a backdrop for family fun," says Raynor. "We've designed it so the whole family can enjoy it together."

He hopes to attract more than five million visitors in the 1960 warm weather season, drawing on the 16 million residents within a 50-mile radius, plus New York's six million summer tourists.

Freedomland was built to last at least 50 years so there is the promise of fantastic profits. Visitors will enter the park through a re-creation of "little old New York" as it was in 1750-1850. Antique cars take tourists into the New England of revolutionary war days, with side trips to Plymouth Rock and to an old-time Boston whaling ship.

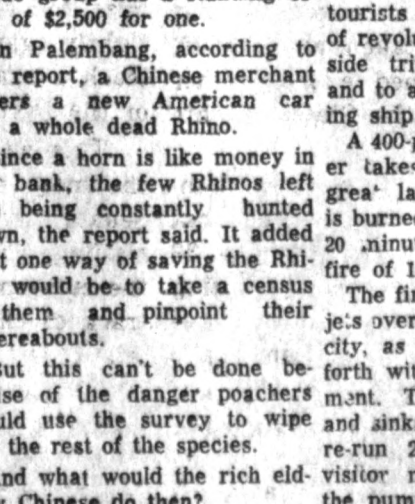

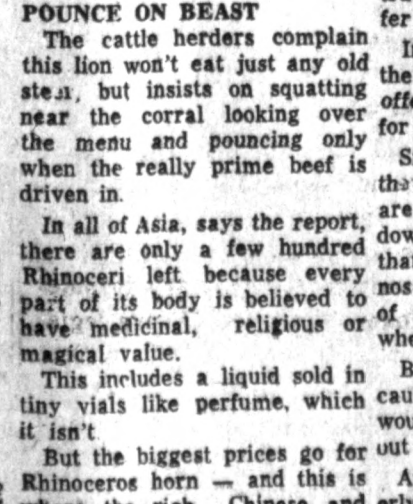

A 400-passenger paddle steamer takes tourists across the great lakes to Chicago, which is burned down in replica every 20 minutes, marking the great fire of 1871.

The fire will rise up from gas jets over the steel and asbestos city, as volunteer firemen rush forth with hand-pumping equipment. The city cracks apart and sinks out of sight—until the re-run 20 minutes later. Any visitor may volunteer to man the pumps.

He was the first Negro appointed Interim Chaplain by the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

Victor Lauds Aid From Organizations

NEW YORK — The victory this week was with Willie R. James and Franklin B. Todd, two Negroes who fought discrimination in Levittown, N. J.

The all-white community has been ordered by New Jersey's Division Against Discrimination (DAD) to process the applications of James and Todd, who have been seeking for two years to buy houses in the restricted development.

Dr. John P. Milligan, director of DAD, announced his department had issued a formal order to William J. Levitt "to cease and desist from discrimination, receive applications from the two Negro families and report back within 45 days on what progress has been made in processing the applications."

James, an Army Warrant Officer who, with Todd, filed complaints of bias against the Levitt concern back in 1957, said: "I'm very happy about it, naturally."

"After all, I've waited two years for this. I'm writing a letter now to Levittown, requesting an application form. I plan to buy a house and move into Levittown as fast as I possibly can. I have never had any hesitancy about moving there."

'WORTH EFFORT'
James said he felt his fight had been "worth all of the effort that was put into it." He added:

"I'd like to say something about the organizations that helped to bring this to a successful conclusion: the American Jewish Congress, the American Civil Liberties Union and the New Jersey Committee against Discrimination in Housing."

"And I want to thank the lawyers who donated their time and services without pay: Julius Wildstein (chairman of the New Jersey Commission on Law and Social Action of the American Jewish Congress), Emerson Darnell (of the Southern New Jersey branch of the ACLU), and Herbert H. Tate (counsel for the New Jersey NAACP). It was their spirit that helped bring this case to a successful conclusion."

Guide For Parents Of Adopted Child

By KATIE LOU RODGERS
United Press International
BOSTON — (U P I) — A foster grandmother has put her own experience to work in trying to help adopted children feel secure in their new homes.

Mrs. Marion McLeod of suburban Waban has written a memory book, "All About You" — the first of its kind for adopted children.

Convinced that parents should never postpone telling a child he is adopted, she hopes this book will help other parents with this problem.

"Telling the adoption story is never easy," she said. "Natural reluctance and resulting postponement may be due to the lack of knowing how to get started."

"Mrs. McLeod and her husband, George, adopted a 10-month-old girl in 1936.

"We told Dianne about her adoption before she could even understand what we were saying. Even if she couldn't understand us, I know she could feel the love in our words. We wanted her to feel secure and special more than anything else."

The 72-page memory book was completed in 1946, but it wasn't until last September that she found a publisher. By that time, she said, a magazine article by an adoptive mother titled "To My Adopted Child — I Wish I Had Not Told You" had created quite a stir.

Bookstores would not stock the McLeod book under the title "An Adopted Child's Memory Book," explaining that they didn't think either parents or children wished to be reminded of an adoption. So the title was changed and the book is now in its second edition.

Through her book, Mrs. McLeod hopes to give all adopted children a life all their own — one without blank pages or fears of the unknown. The book does not refer to age.

Instead, it begins with the day the child enters the new home and has entries for "What we did to find you," "How you looked when we first saw you," and "Our first home."

The McLeod's adopted daughter, now the mother of two sons, said she has never regretted knowing she was adopted.

"To me, no child should be deprived of knowing that he came to his parents because he, himself, was wanted more than anything else on earth," she said.

Hoover Warns Against Riots

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has warned that student riots led by communist agitators can happen in America too.

Hoover said this is exactly what happened in San Francisco last May when college-age demonstrators broke up a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The FBI director, in a report issued by the congressional committee, said the incident revealed "how it is possible for only a few communists, using mob psychology, to turn peaceful demonstrations into riots."

The FBI chief said two communists—Archie Brown and Merle Brodsky—played important parts in inciting the students to riot.

Belgium's Power Policy Blamed For Congo Riots

By ANDREW ROTH

LONDON — Belgium's failure to transfer power to the Congolese, especially the army, was one of several unfortunate mistakes which led to bloody rebellion.

This policy was shown most dramatically—and has collapsed most disastrously—in the Congo Army, the 30,000-strong Force Publique. "After 85 years," complained one of the Army mutineers to a visiting British newspaperman: "there is not a single Congolese officer. This might be a product of stodgy military thinking if the Force Publique had not seen military action. But it was used all over Africa during the war, fighting the Italians in Ethiopia and being used against the Vichy French in West Africa. But the highest that a Congolese could hope to aspire even after Congo independence was announced was the handful of posts as Warrant Officers. All the officers on the day of independence were proclaimed were Belgian and their commander, General Emile Janssens, who had refused Congolese promotions, had expected to be named Defense Minister in the new Congo Government until a few days before he resigned."

It was typical of Belgian insensitivity in the Congo that General Janssens thought, until his men chased him out, that they all loved serving under Belgian officers. Even in a colony it could not be expected that a sergeant major with 20 years' service would consider any snotty-nosed lieutenant his superior just because he had a white skin. But to think this possible in an independent country demonstrates the completely closed mind of the "heavy" paternalist. One would think that every half-way intelligent colonial soldier had noted that the first thing the King of Jordan did to show his country was no longer a semi-colony of Britain was to dismiss Glubb Pasha, as military advisor although he had formed the Arab Legion and been its chief of staff with a handful of British officers. But even in Jordan, a pocket-sized desert kingdom dependent on British handouts, the bulk of the officers were Jordanians, the best of whom were sent to Britain to be trained at Sandhurst.

These paternalistic colonial policies were carried out with particular crudeness by people from the Flemish, or Dutch-speaking part of Belgium. The outside world came to know of this quite dramatically during the army mutiny at the beginning of July 1960.

Rebellious soldiers would stop European newspapermen; when they said, for instance: "I'm British," the soldiers would let them go, saying: "The Flemish bastards we're after!"

"The Flemish are both bores and Boers," a sensitive and experienced colleague explained. The Flemish came from the North of Belgium where the hold of the Dutch language, the Catholic church and the Calvinist conscience are all strong. The Calvinist conscience—which has its hold on all Dutch-speaking people — tends to convince people that they are predestined for a particular station in life, and they owe their economic and social advance to their innate virtue.

This belief may have been a necessary reassurance for the emerging merchant prince of Switzerland, Germany and the Low Countries of the 16th century, but it is dynamite in a racial situation. It is the Dutch Reformed Church, a Calvinist church in South Africa, which justifies the worst of the racial supremacy there on the grounds that God predestined Africans to be inferior "hewers of wood and carriers of water." Although the dominant church in Congo, with most of the education in its hands, has been the Roman Catholic Church, the education it has carried out has had this Calvinist flavor, with the Congolese trained for life as "adolescents," incapable of "adult" jobs for which only Belgians were suitable.

It is comforting when you have not only the political and economic power of a great and wealthy colony in your hands but also a religious justification for keeping all the best jobs in your own hands. "Nowhere else," summed up a colleague, "do you find such fat Belgians or such thin Africans." The material-minded Belgians preferred looking at the proportions of the giant skyscrapers which rose up over Leopoldville in the wake of the post-Korea boom in metals, and particularly the Congo's copper. The Congolese knew that they had little chance to enjoy these soaring luxuries, because their average annual income was $42 per head per year. At the same time the Belgians have been taking out of the Congo an estimated $210 millions in profits of various sorts. If this is averaged out, it means that the average Belgian in Belgium got half, in unearned income, (largely in profits on mining shares) of what a Congolese earned by working the whole year!

This profitable situation is not the sort that a colonial power likes to give up. But an intelligent colonial power like Britain, realizes that at the present stage of world development the best way to maintain the profitable economic relationship is by an effective and generous political transfer of power. The hope of the British in their emerging colonies is that the Africans will be satisfied by the political facade of power — the titles and Cadillacs of office — while behind the British will be allowed to manipulate the economy. The Belgians never realized that they could only hope to protect their ($670 million investment by transferring power to a responsible nationalist movement, backed up by well-trained Congolese administrators and a Congolese-officered army. Now they risk losing all in chaos.

Cops Set To Nip Any Race Violence

Chicago's police have the authority and have been instructed to "nip any racial incident in the bud with district police commanders notified to take discreet preventive measures to avoid friction or trouble."

This is the way Police Supt. O. W. Wilson wants it, and this is the way he has informed the Chicago Urban League that it will be.

In a letter to League Executive Edwin C. Berry, Wilson thanked him for materials sent by the League on Chicago's past incidence of violence and agreed with Berry that the most effective measures "in the field of racial disturbances are preventive in nature."

GIVES CITY DIGNITY

Supt. Wilson's forthrightness, fairness and statesmanship in his direction of the Police Department is doing more toward the establishment of dignity, democracy and human decency," declared Berry upon receipt of Wilson's statement, "than has been done in the past by the combined efforts (or lack of efforts) of all public and private agencies combined."

"He is also giving the Chicago Commission on Human Relations new prestige and this is good for all of us—for all of Chicago."

Wilson noted that he had placed the Department's Human Relations Section under the command of the deputy superintendent

ELMUR A. SIMPSON, noted choir director and musician who recently made a tour of Europe will be presented in a "musical travelogue" Sunday at 5 p.m. at Memorial AME church, 4017 S. ## New Law Hikes School Grants

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill authorizing a $9,348,500 annual increase in federal teaching grants to the nation's 68 land-grant colleges.

Under the new law, the authorization for federal grants for resident teaching purposes increases from $2,501,500 a year to $11,850,000.

Sponsors of the legislation said higher federal payments were needed to meet a 350 per cent increase in enrollments since the program was last authorized in 1935.

Preyed On Gamblers, Peddlers

A self-styled underworld gunman, wanted for the 1952 robbery-slaying of policy figure Sedes "Pops" Flannigan, was arrested Thursday in a stolen auto.

Held for the gangland-style slaying and wanted in Detroit for armed robbery is Albert Johnson, alias "Willie Blackwell," 41, of 4716 Michigan. The suspect said he specialized in robbing dope peddlers, policy men and other racketeers, keeping shy of legitimate businessmen.

Johnson was arrested by Task Force officers at 31st st., and Giles, along with four other men, in a 1955 Pontiac reported stolen by Joseph Miller, 27, of 6517 Yale. Officer said they found a hypodermic needle on one of Johnson's companions, John Coultrie, 29, of 1510 W. 13th st.

Police learned that Johnson, who has a record dating back to 1937, was wanted for the fatal Feb. 8, 1952, shooting of the "elder statesman" of policy gambling.

The 65-year-old Flannigan, among the last of the "old line" policy men and an alleged official of the Rome-Silver policy wheel, was slain during a robbery in the apartment of Fred Washington, 2153 Washburn ave. He was under indictment on charges of gambling conspiracy along with other alleged operators of the wheel at the time of his death.

Killed gangland style, "Pops" was shot by a "stray" bullet after the six armed intruders demanded the racketeer be pointed out. Asked if his gun was loaded, one of the bandits reportedly replied "I don't think so" and fired once.

The bullet struck Flannigan in the neck witnesses said. The triggerman was scolded by one of the other robbers and ordered to leave the apartment.

The victim died the following Wednesday in Cook County hospital, ending a colorful life in the rackets spanning more than 40 years.

More than $400 was reported taken from the policy figure and various amounts were taken from other occupants of the apartment. A $9,000 "bank" in the bedroom of the apartment, a reported "turn in" spot, was also robbed.

Policy records were said to have been destroyed before police were called and Marquette officers reported the incident as a $66 robbery, according to records.

League Aids In Recruiting Air Hostesses

The Chicago Urban League has announced it would recruit qualified girls in the 20-26 year age range for the position of airline stewardess with a major transcontinental airline, in cooperation with the Urban League of St. Paul, Minn.

"This is an area in which the Urban League has pioneered," declared R. O. Lewis, director of employment guidance for the local League. "Since 1956, the Chicago Urban League has been working extensively in conjunction with the Industrial Relations Department of the National Urban League to secure untested positions for Negroes."

Lewis said that the principal hurdle in such placements has been overcoming management resistance but once the ice is broken the pioneer placements have been successful.

He pointed out that several major airlines already employ Negro girls as stewardesses. The starting salary for the stewardess positions soon to be filled will be $280 a month.

1. The most serious outbreaks occur in the summer.
2. Public parks and beaches are danger areas.
3. An estimated 50 per cent of all incidents are not reported.
4. Peripheral areas of the "so called Negro community" are sore spots when Negroes attempt to move beyond the boundaries of the ghetto.
5. Job bias, unemployment or temporary layoffs contribute to a general unrest.
6. Teenagers figure significantly in most race strife.
7. The attitude of police and courts is crucial in determining the amount of violence.

SOCIETY Merry Go-Round

BY MARJORIE I. ULEN

Spending last weekend in America, enjoyed an interesting week-end recently. when they went to Kentucky Lake and Mammoth Cave. Leaving Memphis early on a Friday morning, that night they were assigned cabins and got a good night's sleep in preparation for the following day's activities. They enjoyed a boating trip on the Green River, engaged in tennis and swimming and then left the next day for Mammoth Cave, where they thrilled to the wonders of the underground beauty of nature. Making the trip were Ann Burford, Marilyn Harris, Joan Hargraves, Jeanne Lattin, Yvonne Jordan, Carol Jones, Linda Hargraves, Beverly Hooks, Billy Speight, Donnie Davis, Don Brownlee, Thomas Elrod, Charles Hooks, Homer Fouché, Theodore Pickett, Terry and Edward Harris, Art Gilliam, Butch Jordan, Michael Braswell, Otha Stwyer, Robert Davidson, Joseph Sanderlin, Polk Puryear and Edgar Davis, Jr.

Chaperones were Mrs. A. B. Hargraves, Mrs. Marion Harris, Mrs. Fred Jordan, Mrs. Hooks and Mrs. H. Clinton Ray. At Kentucky Lake, where swimming was enjoyed, Cherokee Park will always remain the scene of a lasting impression of the fun of the "Good Ole Summertime" and the springtime of life — those golden teenage years. UNIQUE BOND OF FRIENDSHIP Recently we learned of an unusual bond of friendship which has existed among a group of ladies in various cities, which has existed since their childhood in Nashville, Tenn., where they were also members of the same church. For the past thirteen years the group meets each year in one of the cities where they live. Composed of Mrs. H. H. Jones of Memphis, Mrs. Lulu Bell Moraj of Las Vegas, Nev., Mrs. Mary Cooley of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Annie M. Beckett of Bowling Green, Ky., and Mrs. Willa Satterfield and Mrs. Marguerite Reed of Nashville. One member of the circle passed away several years ago, the late Mrs. Josephine Douglas of Nashville.

Last year the group met in Nashville, and recently they were the guest of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Jones here in Memphis. Next year, they look forward to visiting Mrs. Beckett at Bowling Green; and they have visited in each of the homes at these various cities, some 2 to 3 times. While visiting with Mrs. Jones here, the charming ladies were recipients of many social courtesies, including a picnic held at Lincoln Park given by the Noonday Revellers club, attendance at St. Andrews church, the courtesy of Rev. and Mrs. H. Ralph Jackson at their lovely Lakeview Gardens home, where they entertained at a breakfast party, and the beautiful art fresco dinner given by Mrs. Jones on the beautifully landscaped grounds of her home at 1534 Arkansas. Other courtesies were extended by Mrs. Mary Neal, Mrs. Bertha Ray, Mrs. Georgia Dancy, and Mrs. Abbie Clay. Following the end of the annual friendship visit, Mrs. Jones left last week on an extensive tour which will take her to visit

When Dr. and Mrs. James H. Carpenter of Washington, D. C., and their children, Jimmie, Barry, Brenda and Karen visited recently Mrs. Carpenter is Mr. Harris' sister. Their presence gave rise to one of the smartest young set parties of the summer, which honored the Carpenter progeny. Demure Miss Marilyn Harris and her parents, were hosts to the social gathering which featured music to hifi, dancing for those who love to "trip the light fantastic" in the Harris' smart "house in the back" — their former garage which has been converted into a charming recreation area that is often the gathering spot of their teenage friends — lawn games, delectable summery refreshments, and a gay group of parents who had just as much fun as the younger editions. While here, the Carpenters were also visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harris. Among the young set present at the interesting party were: Floyd Shavers, Diane Briscoe, Jana Davis, Sylvia Williams, Bobbie Williams, Malcolm Weed Wm. Hampton, Jeanne Lattin, Joan Hargraves, Lynn Marie Howell, Jacquelyn and William Broadnax — and their cousin from Nashville — Anita Westbrook, Polk Puryear, Yvonne Jordan, Don Brownlee, Thomas Elrod, Ann Burford, Beverly and Charles Hooks, Charlie Morris, Homer Fouché, Art Gilliam and Brenda Johnson.

JACK AND JILL'S GUYS AND DOLLS "The Guys and Dolls", the teen-age group of the Memphis Chapter of Jack and Jill of her son Clair M. Jones and his wife, Donna, in Los Angeles, Calif., where Mr. Jones is an outstanding architect and engineer.

She will also visit her sister, Mrs. Theresa Haddock, of Los Angeles, also — plus a visit to her other son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Jones and their three children, who live at Topeka, Kansas. Stopping off in Las Vegas — she'll visit Mrs. Maraj, who was here for the reunion, another indication of esteem of each other of this wonderful circle of friends.

Mrs. Adie Crawford of 1020 Leath street, well-known florist who is the proprietor of Henry's Flower Shop, and member of Christian Social Club and St. Stephen Baptist church, left the city to attend the International Florist Convention which convened in Chicago, Ill. She will also go to Detroit, Mich., where she will be the houseguest of Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Oglesby, and before returning home, will stop in Cleveland, Ohio, to visit her niece, and a trip to Flint, Mich. to see her son.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Lester complimented Mrs. Maxine McCain Lowe of Berkeley, Calif., who recently announced her wedding to a California lawyer-to-be (next June), who has been visiting her parents and friends here. Mrs. Lester (Marynell) and Maxine were classmates at Manassas and clubmates.

Games, cocktails and late supper were enjoyed by Miss Eliza Young, Dan Baker, Miss Princess Gilbert, Mrs. Doris Green, McVay, Cury Lester, Joe Suduth and others.

VICTORY GET-TOGETHER

With Election Day drawing near, the whole town's buzzing with the thrill of getting out a record vote for our deserving candidates. There's nothing like the "job-well-done" feeling to be had when one experiences the pulls of conscience that make all citizens who yearn for a better day in Memphis get out and help our candidates to win.

Sunday, July 31, will find more than 25 organizations teamed for a gala social at the Universal Life Insurance Company, from 4 to 7 p. m. The public is invited to attend, to enjoy the refreshments to be served by the participating organizations, and best of all, to support and meet candidate Atty. A. W. Willis, Jr., who is running for the position of Delegate At Large, to the Shelby County Court — and who, by the way, did himself proud in stating his reasons for running and in soliciting the support of all Memphis citizens, Negro and white alike on TV last Sunday afternoon, as we were about to go to press.

Put on your best bib and tucker — and enjoy the air-conditioned comfort of the Universal Lounge, while chatting with friends, and showing Mr. Willis that Memphians are behind him 100 percent, every registered voter, who registered because of the importance of his vote on election day.

Bye for now... and I look forward to reporting that YOU WERE THERE, SUNDAY, JULY 31, at the Universal Lounge, from 4 to 7 p. m. Campaign Managers for Atty. Willis are the Rev. B. L. Hooks and Atty. Russell B. Sugarmon, Jr.

I'M A DAISY
I'm a pretty little thing,
I come with the spring
In the meadows green I'm found;
Peeping just above the ground;
And my stalk is covered flat
With a white and yellow hat.
Little one, when you pass
Lightly o'er the tender grass,
Skip about, but do not tread;
For I always seem to say,
"Surely winter's gone away."

Gain Integration At A and P Stores

By ILENA DAVIS
GARY, Ind. — (Special) — The FSO under guidance of Atty. Hilbert L. Bradley and A&P Executives Lewis and Wilson have worked together successfully in integrating Negro personnel in Gary stores. Roland Wilson, general supervisor, in a recent meeting with the Fair Share Organization, assured its members that Negroes would have equal opportunity for any and all positions opening in the near future.
Presently, out of 43 employees at 1429 Broadway, 27 are Negroes. Out of 53 employees at 768 Massachusetts, 14 are Negroes. Wilso praised the Urban League for sending some of the finest people he's reviewed for job openings and advised all future employees would be hired on qualifications irrespective to race.
The Fair Share Organization, comprised of ministers, professionals, businessmen and women has worked diligently for two years to see that doors are opened to qualified Negroes who are denied jobs because of color.
The A&P integration move is one of the organization's major compensations for a job well done.

La. Slayer Of 4 Free On Bond

MONROE, La. — (ANP) — Robert Fuller, 40, who killed four Negro employes and wounded another when they allegedly attacked him after a labor dispute, was free on $25,000 bond late last week.

Fuller, owner of a septic tank service firm, has been charged with manslaughter in the shootings and will await Ouachita Parish grand jury action when it convenes in October.

Sheriff's deputies said Fuller shot and killed 24-year-old brothers Albert and David Pitts and Marshall Johnson, 19, during the incident.

Another of his employes, Ernest McFarland, died in St. Francis Hospital here.

The fifth worker, Willie Gibson, was hospitalized but was in good condition. Fuller said he had been trying to "ride out" a dispute with the men after he slapped Gibson for cursing him.

Gibson, like the others involved in the shooting, is from Monroe. Fuller said his argument with Gibson occurred after the worker allegedly forced a white boy to quit his job by "running him off with a shovel."

Accuse Reds Of Air Piracy

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (UPI) — The U. S. accused Russia Monday of a "criminal and reckless act of piracy" in shooting down an RB-47 reconnaissance plane. It said a Soviet fighter was shot down over international waters.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said secret U. S. electronic devices based in England tracked the plane throughout its entire flight. He asked if Russia was seeking a pretext for war.

In a formal resolution Lodge challenged Moscow to submit the case to investigation by a commission of the U. S. and Russia and a third party acceptable to both, or to take it before the international court of justice at the Hague. Russia immediately rejected the demand.

The U. S. wanted the commission to inspect the site, examine the wreckage and question the survivors and other witnesses.

U. of C. Paper Sets No Biased Ads Rule

(ANP) — The student publication of the University of Chicago has announced it will no longer accept advertisements for apartments to rent from landlords practicing racial or religious discrimination.

Persons wishing to advertise vacancies in the classified section of the Chicago Maroon will be asked if they will rent to Jews, orientals, or Negroes. If the answer is in the negative, the paper will refuse to accept the advertisement.

HOME-OWNED

Boise — An estimated 82 percent of all the farms in Idaho are occupied and operated by the farmers who own them.

National League Strongest Thanks To Negroes, Say Mag

NEW YORK — The extent of the growing weakness of the American League was revealed in last week's two All-Star Games, says the July 25th issue of Sports Illustrated. The magazine rates the National alone in its claim to being big league and points to the Negro players as the crux of National League strength.

"While the American League has weakened," writer Walter Bingham states, "the National League, thanks to a steady influx of talented Negro ballplayers, has improved. The National League has four times as many Negroes as the American has, and certainly all the outstanding ones. Perhaps this is because Jackie Robinson, the first Negro big leaguer, played in the National League. Maybe it is because American League club owners were slow in yielding to the changing times. In any case, the Negro ballplayer has made the National League a better league."

The American League's Minnie Minoos, Vic Power, Elston Howard and Al Smith are good, the article says, but they can not compare with the National's Henry Aaron, Willie Mays and Ernie Banks, baseball's top hitters, or with Frank Robinson, Orlando Cepeda, Vada Pinon, Roberto Clemente and Bill White. It is significant, Sports Illustrated thinks, that in the seventh inning of the New York All-Star Game the National League fielded six Negroes at one time.

Reviewing the play and results of the two All-Star Games this year in which the American League was beaten decisively twice in three days, the article points out that the Nationals have won nine of the last 13 games—a situation no longer without meaning. In recent World Series play, the National League has won four out of six, and last year the White Sox were so easily beaten by the Dodgers, "it was clear that either the second-place Braves or the third-place Giants could have done the same thing," says the article.

The decline of the Yankees, who gave the American League its formidable reputation during the 30's, 40's and early 50's, is another reason cited for the growing strength of the Nationals. And even though the Yankees have recovered from their collapse of last year, they are not the terrors of old. "The National League had no trouble at all with them in the All-Star Games," says the article. "The Yankee block (Maris, Mantle, Skowron and Berra batted in succession) managed only three hits, all singles, in 18 at-bats for a .167 average. And Whitey Ford, the Yankees' best pitcher, gave up five hits, two of them home runs, thus losing the second game."

Tennessee Telephone Rates Increased

The old saying that "talk is cheap" does not apply in Tennessee if you're doing it by telephone, according to a statement by Glen Nicely, candidate for Tenn. Public Service Commission.

Nicely pointed out that telephone companies have received four rate increases in Tenn. during the term of his opponent and added further that Southern Bell's net earnings in Tenn. are up over 200 per cent since 1954.

"Even with these increased rates and increased profits, telephone companies in many instances have shown a wanton disregard for the needs of Tennesseans for extended lines and better service," Nicely said. "It is hard to explain to the citizens of this State why telephone rates have been increased in Tenn. to the extent that from many points in this state you can call Toronto, Canada, or and to be worn by the United States team in Rome (starting August 25) is viewed by heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, a former Olympic Gold Medal winner. The occasion was the "Olympic Evening Festival," held July 11 at the Taverna On The Green, New York City. Olympic officials and many former Olympic competitors were among the 200 people present at the event, jointly sponsored by the New York Committee for the 1960 Olympic Games and the Hungarian National Sports Federation.

"Tareyton sure has the taste!" —says Willie Mays

Spectacular center fielder of the S. F. Giants, famed Willie Mays, made Dual Filter Tareyton his steady smoke some time ago. "I can tell you," says Willie, "that pack after pack Tareytons give me everything I want. Tareyton sure has the taste!"

Filters for Flavor

—finest flavor by far!

Here's how the DUAL FILTER DOES IT:

- It combines a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL ... definitely proved to make the taste of a cigarette mild and smooth...
- with a pure white outer filter. Together they select and balance the flavor elements in the smoke. Tareyton's flavor-balance gives you the best taste of the best tobaccos.
